CENTENNIAL IS CELEBRATED HERE

Celebrating the entrance of the Mormon pioneers into the Salt Lake Valley July 24th, 1847, the M.I.A.'s of the Welling, Raymond First and Second Wards sponsored a day of fun and feasting at Victoria Park on Wednesday afternoon.

Commencing with a parade at 2:30 down Broadway an afternoon of sports was conducted including races of all kinds, horseshoes, softball etc. The feature of the day was a barbeque. About 300 pounds of prime beef was placed in the barbeque pit at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, and was taken out at 5:30 p.m., done to a turn and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Immediately after lunch a program was given and the evening brought a dance on the pavilion with the Royal Canadians furnishing the music.

Prizes for the parade and sports of the afternoon were given out during the dance and the beard growing contest was judged and prizes awarded during the dance. Fireworks were also conducted during the evening.

The whole day was free to everyone and a very enjoyable time was had.

Organizers of girl's and boy's summer camps are invited by the Department of National Health and Welfare to apply to its Nutrition Division at Ottawa, or to the provincial health department, for a copy of "Camp Feeding", a little booklet on Camp Diet. A new and vital service came into operation in Alberta Tuesday afternoon when His Honour, Lieutenant Governor Bowen (above) officially opened the Canadian Red Cross Society's Blood Transfusion Depot in Edmonton.

Designed to save lives and prevent needless suffering this new service, pointed out Lieutenant Governor Bowen, thereby deserves the whole hearted support of the citizens of Alberta.

It is for this new service the present appeal for volunteer blood donors is now underway by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

MY WEEK

by R. J. Deachman

"There is nothing new under the sun." Sometimes I doubt it. In his famous Gettysburg speech in November 1863, Abraham Lincoln used these words:

"Government of the people, by the people, for the people."

The phrase caught on and has been used as an expression of democratic opinion throughout the world ever since.

The times and conditions of life—not man create the greatest speeches the world has ever heard. In the preface of his translation of the bible John Wycliffe wrote these words:

"This bible is for the government of the people, by the people and for the people."

That was published in the year 1382, 481 years before Lincoln's time.

Theodore Parker, a famous American preacher speaking in Boston, Mass., on May 28, 1850 said:

"A democracy—that is, a government of all the people, by all the people, for all the people; of course a government on the principle of eternal justice, the unchanging law of God, for shortness' sake, I will call it the idea of freedom."

It sounds very different when the emphasis is on "all", the meaning too is quite different. Lincoln, however, placed his emphasis on the word "people". Some years ago, a boy delivering an address quoted Lincoln's words, an old gentleman came to him afterwards and congratulated him:

"Son," he said, "I liked the way you gave that speech, but you made the same mistake as everyone else. I heard Mr. Lincoln at Gettysburg, so I know what I'm talking about. Everyone says, 'OF the people, BY the people, FOR the people', but Mr. Lincoln said 'of the PEOPLE, by the PEOPLE and by the PEOPLE'."

That makes a difference in the inference, for it becomes more comprehensive when we put the emphasis on people. When it is read in that way it includes 'all the people', which is beyond question what Lincoln meant it should.

Russia went too far when, a few days ago, she changed the Hungarian Government. It would pay her, in the long run, if she withdrew and did know.

General Marshall is the strong man of the United States. He knows the danger which might arise from Russia.

Art Hallman, popular dancer, band leader and singer, who can also double on piano or saxophone at a moment's notice. He and his band are heard from Toronto's Casa Loma on Saturdays at 9:30 p.m. over the CBC Dominion network. Hallman does all the musical arrangements, including those for the vocal quartet.

lan expansion. He do not want war with Russia, he knows what war means perhaps better than any man in the United States. The effect of absolute war is the breakdown of civilization, the destruction of world economy.

The United States is stirring. It doesn't propose to meet Russia by machine guns and atomic bombs. The United States is coming to the conclusion that Europe can be rebuilt. Russia might even help. The task will require the co-operation of the whole world. The idea would be by the investment of capital to increase its capacity to produce at a higher level than ever before.

If that program evolves and develops as it would, if it is given economic backing, then I will add to the prosperity of the world. We may yet live to see a United Europe. If that could happen we might have a hundred years of peace—if a hundred why not a thousand.

This doesn't mean that the Russians must change their system of government, it means only a change of outlook. When men begin to realize, as everyone in the world ought to realize, that the prosperity of our neighbors is the best guarantee of our own, then we will have the basis of progress which means not that I am my brother's keeper but that I, as a citizen of the world, want others to be happy and prosperous.

CAPITAL, WAGES AND PRODUCTION

"The inherent tendency of capitalist evolution is to raise real wages steadily. This is the effect of the progressive accumulation of capital by means of which technological methods of production are improved. There is no secret by which the height of wage rates can be raised for all those eager to earn wages other than through the increase of the per capita quota of capital invested. Whenever the accumulation of additional capital stops, the tendency toward a further increase in real wage rates comes to a standstill. If capital consumption is substituted for an increase in capital available, real wage rates must drop temporarily until the checks on a further increase in capital are removed. Government measures which retard capital accumulation or lead to capital consumption—such as excise tax—therefore are detrimental to the vital interests of the workers."

HAIL DAMAGE REPORTED

Heavy rain, and in some places heavy hail damage was reported Wednesday evening in the Ridge country south of Raymond. Several farmers report heavy hail damage but the extent of the storm is not yet reported.

Heavy rains reported in the area are believed to be spotty.

Tommy Matamora, George Sarawati and Bert Powelson report crop damage believed to be as high as 50 percent in some cases. The path the storm followed is still unreported. Hail damage was reported in the same area over the week end.

Crops in this district are beginning to suffer for moisture and good rain are urgently needed.

A Need For Doctors

PUBLIC ATTENTION HAS BEEN DRAWN frequently in recent years to the shortage of doctors in Canada. In some rural communities lack of sufficient medical services has been extremely serious, while even in many of the larger centres there has been need for a greater number of doctors. The Canadian Press recently made a survey of the situation in Western Canada. The figures which were compiled in this survey showed that British Columbia has more medical men in proportion to its population than any of the other Western Provinces. That province has approximately 1,400 doctors, or one to every 785 persons. Manitoba has the next highest percentage, with 726 doctors, making one to 1,032 inhabitants. Alberta has 689 doctors, or one to every 1,200 persons, while Saskatchewan has 577 physicians, which is one to approximately 1,500 people.

All Physicians Are Not Active

The figures for the whole of Canada indicate that there are more than 12,000 registered physicians, which makes one to every 908 people. However, as previous figures showed, in provinces where the rural population is high the number of people to each doctor is much more than 908. It must also be considered that although there are actually 12,000 registered physicians in Canada, all of them are not devoting their full time to the practice of medicine, some of them being engaged in teaching, medical research, or some form of administrative work. Although considerable effort was made to gather statistics on the subject, it is pointed out that the figures vary constantly as older doctors reach retirement age and new ones enter the profession. However, the figures do show that many doctors must have more than a normal amount of demands upon their services, and that some districts must lack adequate medical facilities.

Help Is Needed In Other Lands

In spite of the apparent shortage of doctors here, Canada has more physicians per capita than any other country in the world except the United States. China, with some 400,000,000 people has less than 12,000 doctors. That country has need for the services of 200,000 doctors, while Ethiopia, with 12,000,000 people has no doctors or trained nurses. Sixty per cent. of the doctors in Czechoslovakia were executed or died in German concentration camps, leaving that country with an acute lack of medical services. While Canada has no surplus of doctors, it is apparent that we could render great service to devastated nations by sending medical personnel to help them at this time. The answer to the problem would appear to lie in training more doctors here. Canada has fine medical schools, with very high standards, which at all costs should be maintained. However, if more facilities could be made available for training doctors at this time, it would relieve the shortage here, and also enable Canada to help those countries whose needs are so great.

OIL BOOM IN CANADA'S WEST

NEW YORK.—Canada is now experiencing the liveliest oil boom in its history, as more than a score of companies race against time to discover the new domestic supplies which the Dominion needs urgently, according to The Lamp, publication of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey).

Imperial Oil Limited, Canadian affiliate of Jersey Standard, recently brought in a well near the prairie town of Leduc, and this development has given impetus to the search in which 10 major companies are taking part, the publication added. The new well is 16 miles south of Edmonton, and has been called "the most encouraging initial flow since the discovery of Turner Valley field." To date, The Lamp pointed out, Leduc No. 1 is producing a good 39 degree gravity crude, which the refiners like because it yields a maximum of the gasoline and other light products needed by the prairie farming population.

It is ironical, the Jersey Standard organ stated, that Canada—with a per-capita consumption of oil second only to the United States—last year imported 63,000,000 barrels, or 89 per cent., of the 71,000,000 barrels its refineries processed, since all geological evidence indicates that the Dominion has ample undiscovered oil reserves of its own.

New Service Centers For Canada's Blind

TORONTO.—Sixteen new service centers for Canada's 14,679 blind persons will be built across the Dominion within five years, Col. E. A. Baker, the Canadian Institute For The Blinds managing director, announced at the institute's 29th annual meeting recently.

Two centers are under construction in Kitchener, Ont., and St. Catharines, Ont. Plans are going ahead for others in Ottawa, Windsor, Hamilton, London and Toronto.

Chinese Students Kill Principle

SHANGHAI.—The Chinese Central News Agency said that a group of students of Lingnan Middle School at Canton had thrown the school principal down a flight of stairs, causing fatal injuries.

The students, the agency said, had demanded that Principal Tsai Hu-fu surrender their final examination papers but he refused. The agency didn't say why the students wanted the papers.

Family Bonus Totals Given

—$462,239,885 PAID OUT

OTTAWA—Health Department officials who disclosed that $462,239,885 had been paid out in family allowances between July 1, 1945, and July 1, 1947, said an estimated $30,000,000 of the total payments had been recovered through income tax in 1946, but that no estimate was available for 1945. Since Jan. 1, 1947, the allowances have been made part of the income tax exemption system and are not taxable.

The officials said the $30,000,000 figure was only an estimate, because an accurate figure could only be obtained by going through the income tax returns of each and everyone who received family allowances in 1946 when a total of $240,454,428 was paid out.

July 1, 1945, to Jan. 1, 1947, the allowances, which average about $72 a year per child, were paid through 16 and under, but persons earning more than $3,000 a year paid what they received in allowances back through income taxes.

For instance, a married man making $1,400 a year paid back through income tax 10 per cent. of what he received in allowances. The rate of re-payment increased up to 90 per cent. in the case of those earning between $2,900 and $3,000.

As a result of this system many families with children did not apply for the allowances.

At Jan. 1, last, a new system came into effect which incorporated the allowances with income tax exemptions. A straight $100 exemption was fixed for each child 16 and under. This amount and any sum received in family allowance payments, regardless of the income of the parents, could be deducted for income tax purposes.

With this change many persons not in receipt of family allowances applied for them as from the first of this year. The annual payments increased by $10,000,000.

Finance Minister, Hon. Douglas Abbott said recently that family allowance income is tax exempt income in the hands of anybody. He added:

"If I have an income today of $1,900 and I have 10 children, all of whom are eligible for family allowances, I get the family allowance for the full 10 and I get my regular exemption of $1,500 plus another $100 for each child.

"As a matter of fact, it would be a total exemption of $2,500 plus non-taxable income of whatever the family allowance would amount to for the 10 children."

EXTRAORDINARY STAMP SALE

OTTAWA—Sales of the Alexander Graham Bell commemorative postage stamp to philatelists have been "extraordinary," Postmaster-General Bertrand told the Commons.

He said $125,000 worth of the four-cent stamps were sold before it even was issued.

Total sales of stamps to collectors for the year, he reported, were more than $300,000.

TOURIST TRADE IS IN FULL SWING — INDICATING A BANNER YEAR

One of Canada's greatest industries—the Tourist Business—is in full swing now, with every indication that this will be a banner year, shattering all the marks established in 1946 when visitors spent more than $212,000,000 in Canada.

That $212,000,000 figure is impressive, but its implications frequently escape us. To compile it, for instance, sufficient automobiles crossed the border to stretch, four abreast, from the Atlantic to the Pacific—and there was an additional 1,000,000-odd visitors who came by air, boat, train or bus. All-in-all, that $212,000,000 means that Canada this year can expect to play host to almost as many visitors as she has residents.

Thus, a new golden era in the Tourist Industry has been born—and the glory of it is that every Canadian individual and business benefits from the industry. Each tourist dollar, like a stone dropped into a pond, starts a chain reaction of benefits that extends through the hotel, resort, restaurant and gas station through to the farmer, the builder, and to every other type of enterprise in the country.

Experts say that, properly handled, the business of entertaining guests from other countries will within the next five years make more jobs for Canadians than any other phase of the country's economic life. It is a business that can be expanded to a position where it might well do for Canada what it did for pre-war Switzerland where one-seventh of the entire population was supported solely by tourist receipts.

Truly, the tourist industry is one that has no smoke stacks and yet its value to employment and prosperity for Canada is almost incalculable.

All of which brings home one highly important truth. Just as every person in Canada benefits from the Tourist Industry, so every person in Canada should—from self-interest if for no other reason—take a direct interest in seeing that the industry develops and grows by making Canada a more pleasant place to visit. The Tourist Industry could very well dwindle into insignificance if visitors can't get what they are seeking in Canada.

The tourist wants good food—that is the responsibility of the restaurant owner. He wants good accommodation—that is the responsibility of the hotel and resort owner. But above all the tourist wants pleasant surroundings and a friendly atmosphere—and that is the responsibility of every Canadian.

HISTORY OF RAYMOND

By ELIZABETH KING

JULY 24 1847-1947

One hundred years ago today a band of 143 men, three women and two children ended their long tiresome trek from Nauvoo, Ill., to Salt Lake City, led by their prophet and guide Brigham Young. At 9:30 this morning July 24, the unveiling ceremony of "This is the Place" monument took place which was the high spot of Utah's Centennial Celebration. Latter-day Saints all over the world at this time will feel a deeper gratitude and love for their forebears. Hearts will be stirred with an unusual devotion and reverence and loving memories of these noble pioneers will flood the mind and fill the soul with thanksgiving and praise.

One of the interesting historic events of Utah's pioneer centennial year will be the Sons of Utah Pioneers memorial trek from Nauvoo, Ill. early metropolis of Mormonism, to Salt Lake City, July 14 to 22.

A band of 143 men, three women and two boys, dressed to represent pioneer ancestors will meet July 14 at Nauvoo. Both their number, and the number of their seventy-two automobiles will correspond with those of Brigham Young's original company.

The first encampment program will be presented the night of July 14, at Nauvoo Ill. At this and subsequent dramatic episodes to be presented along the route, an attendance of many thousands is anticipated. Other campfire programs will be presented at Gorden Grove Ia, Winter Quarters, (Omaha, Neb.) North Platt, Neb., Fort Laramie, Independence Rock, Rock Creek, and Fort Bridger, Wyo. David O. McKay will address the Fort Bridger meeting and a committee plans to provide seats for 10,000 persons. (Taken from the Salt Lake Tribune, Apr. 6, 1947.)

It is understood that Brigham Spencer Young the 5th—great grandson of President Brigham Young was in charge of the memorial trek from Nauvoo and they will reenact the famous trip these pioneers made, stopping at all point of interest, and as they had in their party several talented persons, they performed for them, giving Utah a tremendous amount of publicity. His wife, Ann (Brewerton, Young and their daughter will accompany Spencer Young on this trip. He is also in charge of the beard growing contest which will climax their trip, as it will be judged on July 23 or 24 on the State Capitol steps. The first prize is $500. This Brigham Spencer Young, the 5th was born in Raymond.

Early settlers will recall the B.S. Young, grandson, who was at one time Mayor of Raymond—1911-12. He was also editor of the local paper—The Chronicle. (The writer has a copy of his first paper dated Nov. 27 1905.

In the Jubilee year—1925, the 50th anniversary of the organization of the M.I.A. he impersonated his grandfather in that wonderful pageant "The Torch of Inspiration". Those who saw him walk slowly across the stage in the Salt Lake Tabernacle under an amber spot light were amazed and thrilled at the close resemblance.

Old timers will also remember his son Brigham Spencer, "Spence" as he was called by his friends in Raymond. He worked in the grocery department in the Raymond Mercantile for several years. He was also very active in home dramas. In fact he, with his father, brothers and sisters, were unusually gifted along this line. Mr. Young the father wrote directed and played in a number of fine plays such as "The Merry Cobbler", and others in which Grant, Spence, Dorothy, and Phyllis were prominent. At the grand opening of the Raymond Opera House in 1909 B.S. Young presented the play "Arizona". Grant played in the "Daughter of the Desert" in 1913. Spence was also active in the newspaper business with his father at one time.

The Young family later moved to Lethbridge where B. S. Young was sustained as bishop of the Lethbridge Ward. In the recent sacred pageant "The Message of the Ages" presented in Salt Lake City from May 5th to June 6th, five nights a week, or a total of 25 performances, it is estimated that 140,000 persons witnessed the presentation. Spencer Young portrayed the part of his great grand father. He is the husband of Ann Brewerton who is a sister of George of Vancouver, Lee of Raymond and Gordon of Carlston.

Spence was also in charge of the Centennial parade which was a tremendous responsibility. He also was in charge of the Queen on the trip to Hollywood where she was entered in the parade of Roses at Pasadena. They were feted by several personalities including Joel McCrea and other movie stars. They were housed in the biggest hotel in Hollywood and were photographed on several occasions. They were in a movie road but this particular one did not come to Canada.

Following is a list of some of the centennial events: "The Promised Valley", a music drama presented from July 21st, to August 10, produced at a cost of over $120,000. This drama was presented on a $20,000, stage built at the north end of the University of Utah at about a farm a centennial amphitheatre. Special scenery on four levels with spectacular lighting effects created the atmosphere of history. A stereophonic sound system, similar to that used in the Radio City music hall provided acoustics unsurpassed by any outdoor theatre in America.

"One Hundred Years of American Painting", a collection of priceless pictures will be presented. There will be hundreds of attractions at the Centennial Exposition.

Following are a few excerpts taken from talks given by Centennial leaders:

The production chief, Sheldon Brewster says: "The Utah Centennial Exposition will attract a vast attendance and that literally millions of travellers will pass through this hub of air, rail and motor transportation and will stop over in the gola Capital city."

Governor Herbert Malt: "Our pioneer forefathers would certainly smile approval on a show of this proportion—a show designed to exhibit the accomplishments of the past and outline the design for the future."

David O. McKay, Centennial chairman: "The exposition will provide a place where our visitors will constantly be reminded of the greatness that grew from a vast wilderness and where they may relax in an atmosphere of instruction and cordial hospitality."

David H. Thomas president of the board of directors of the Utah Centennial State Fair Association: "It is a great privilege to dedicate the Utah Centennial Exposition to the Pioneers of 1847. For these were the sturdy colonizers who laid the industrial and social foundations that has made this eventful century of progress possible. Through every chapter of this hundred years of growth and expansion runs the theme of faith and enterprise that is our rich pioneer heritage. The 1947 Exposition will be a tribute to the courage and proof of the vision of those hardy pathfinders. Elegantly it will confirm the rightness of Brigham Young's incredibly courageous utterance: "This is the place!" It will proclaim more graphically than has ever been proclaimed that Utah through heroic planning and long perseverance, has earned a place among progressive states in the Union. It will reflect the ideals and the spirit of a happy industrious people who literally fulfilled that prophesy found in Isaiah 35:1—"and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose". The Centennial Exposition, in a word, will be a memorable markers on the highway of progress that will be more than 200 King Scouts was chartered by heroic pioneers." Gus J. Hackman, Centennial Director: "The Centennial Commission welcomes you to the Centennial Exposition. Every effort has been put forth to make this the biggest show in the history of the Intermountain west. No effort has been spared to arrange for your comfort and enjoyment. The buildings have been remodeled, the grounds landscaped, and the pedestrian surfaces hard surfaced for your convenience. We want you to have a good time and we want you to come back again and again throughout the summer. The best shows obtainable have been scheduled. There will always be something new and entertaining to attract your attention. This is your exposition. It is the culmination of long work and much planning. We invite you to enjoy yourself to the utmost."

The following is a partial list of the attractions at the Exposition: "Holiday on Ice", "Pioneer Village", "Centennial Horse Show", "Bobby Ward and Sky Devils", "Mammoth Fireworks—Fountain of Fire", "Light Opera Company", "Music Contests", "Wild Animal Circus", "Auto Racing", "Famous Water Follies", "Holy Land Model—the largest miniature ever constructed", "Famed Marionette Show", "Barnes-Carruthers Centennial Revue", "Silver Gardens", one of the smartest eating and refreshment places in Utah, "Gala Midway", "Giant Balloon Spectacle", etc.

Another interesting feature will be the contingent of Scouts assembled in Salt Lake City from Canada and more than thirty states in the Union marking the 100th anniversary of the entrance into the Salt Lake Valley by the vanguard of the Mormon Pioneers. It is estimated that there

LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS—AND OCEANS, TOO—Heading for the home of her Canadian fiancé in Ottawa, happy Reynette Jovers from The Hague, is seen as she arrived in Montreal with 1,000 other Dutch immigrants aboard the liner S.S. Waterman. She is engaged to Bud Keenan, a medical student attending Queen's University, who met her while serving in the Canadian army overseas.

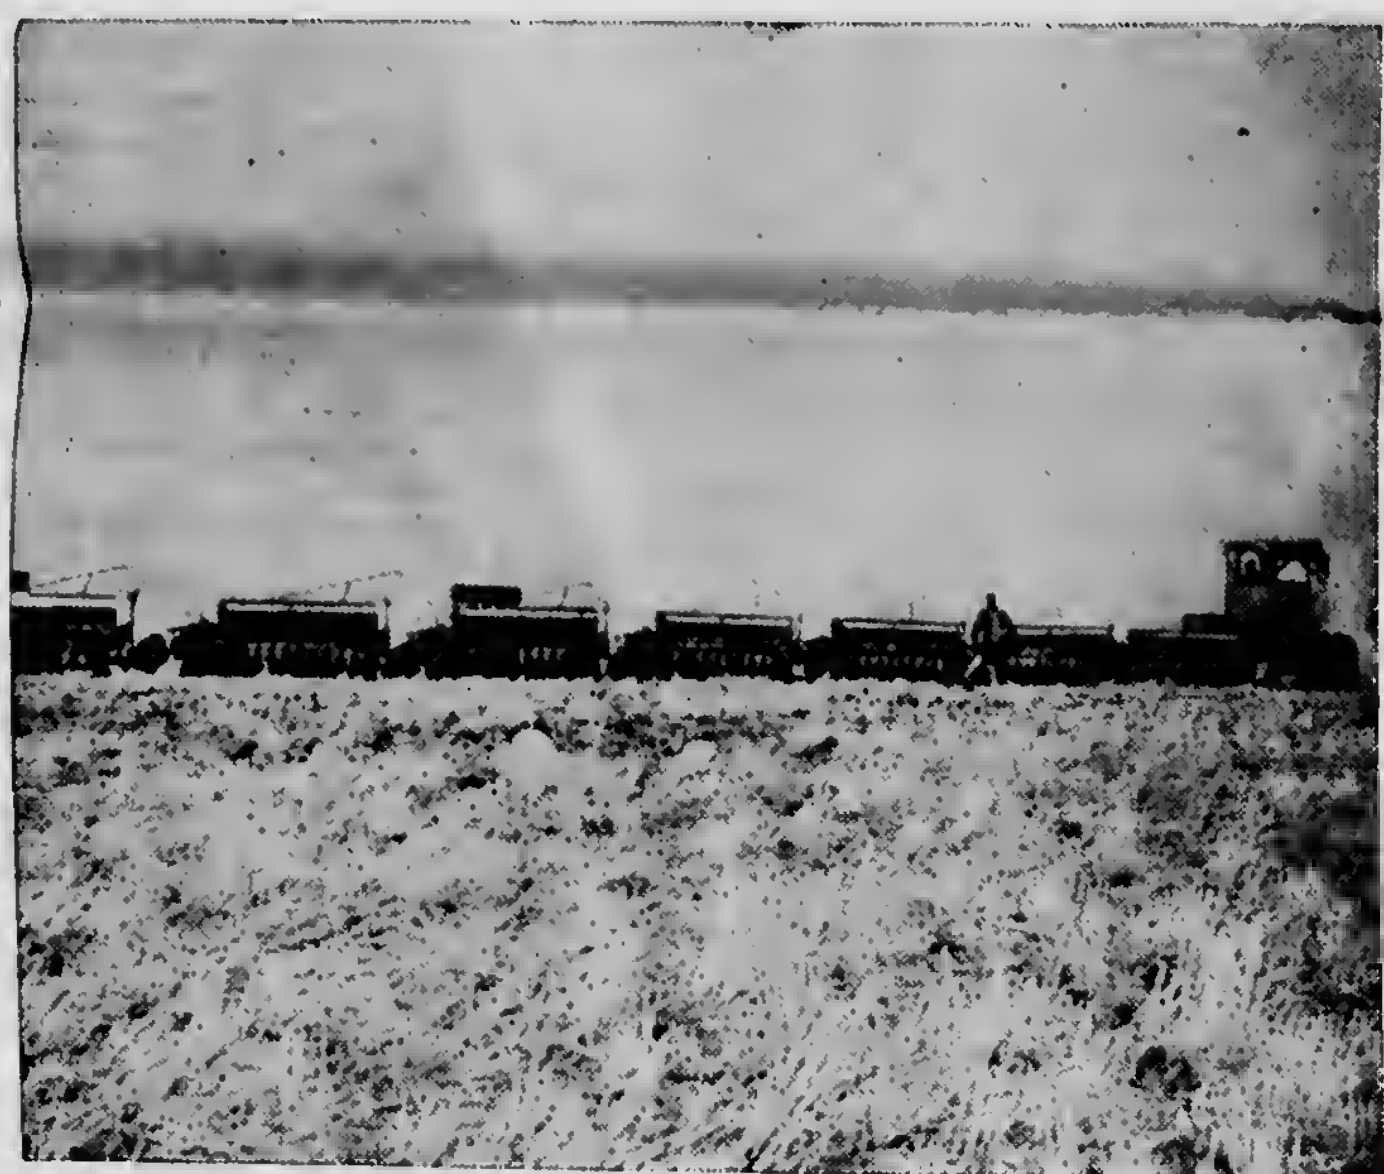

WILD CHASE RESULTS IN ONE DEATH, TWO WRECKED CARS—In a brief but wild chase, a stolen car, followed by police, killed one person, injured others, crashed into a parked taxi-cab and snapped off a cement telephone pole on Toronto streets. The car, stolen in Burlington, was seen by police in Toronto who gave chase. Of eight occupants of the car, three are being held by police, five disappeared when the car stopped. The stolen car is shown, (right), the wrecked cab, (left).

GRAIN FREIGHTER ROOSTS ON ST. LAWRENCE BOTTOM—Sitting on bottom of St. Lawrence river near Varennes, Que., the 10,000-ton freighter Cumberland County is shown after it struck a rock and sank. Two lighters alongside are removing 9,000 tons of grain in an effort to refloat the Britain-bound ship.

SPEEDY WORK—A string of "Tiller Combines" pulled by one tractor seeding 2,500 acres barley on the farm of O. B. Lassiter, Chin, Alta. Traveling at three miles per hour, seeding a strip 48 feet wide, the outfit completed the job in nine days. Mr. Lassiter is a strong advocate of trash cover. "It feeds the soil and prevents soil drifting," he says.

This sleek "doddie" was grand champion at the Junior Beef Club show and sale held recently at Brooks, Alta., and commanded the top price of 59 cents for each of his 674 pounds. He is being held here by his proud owner, Violetta Swanson, of Scandia.

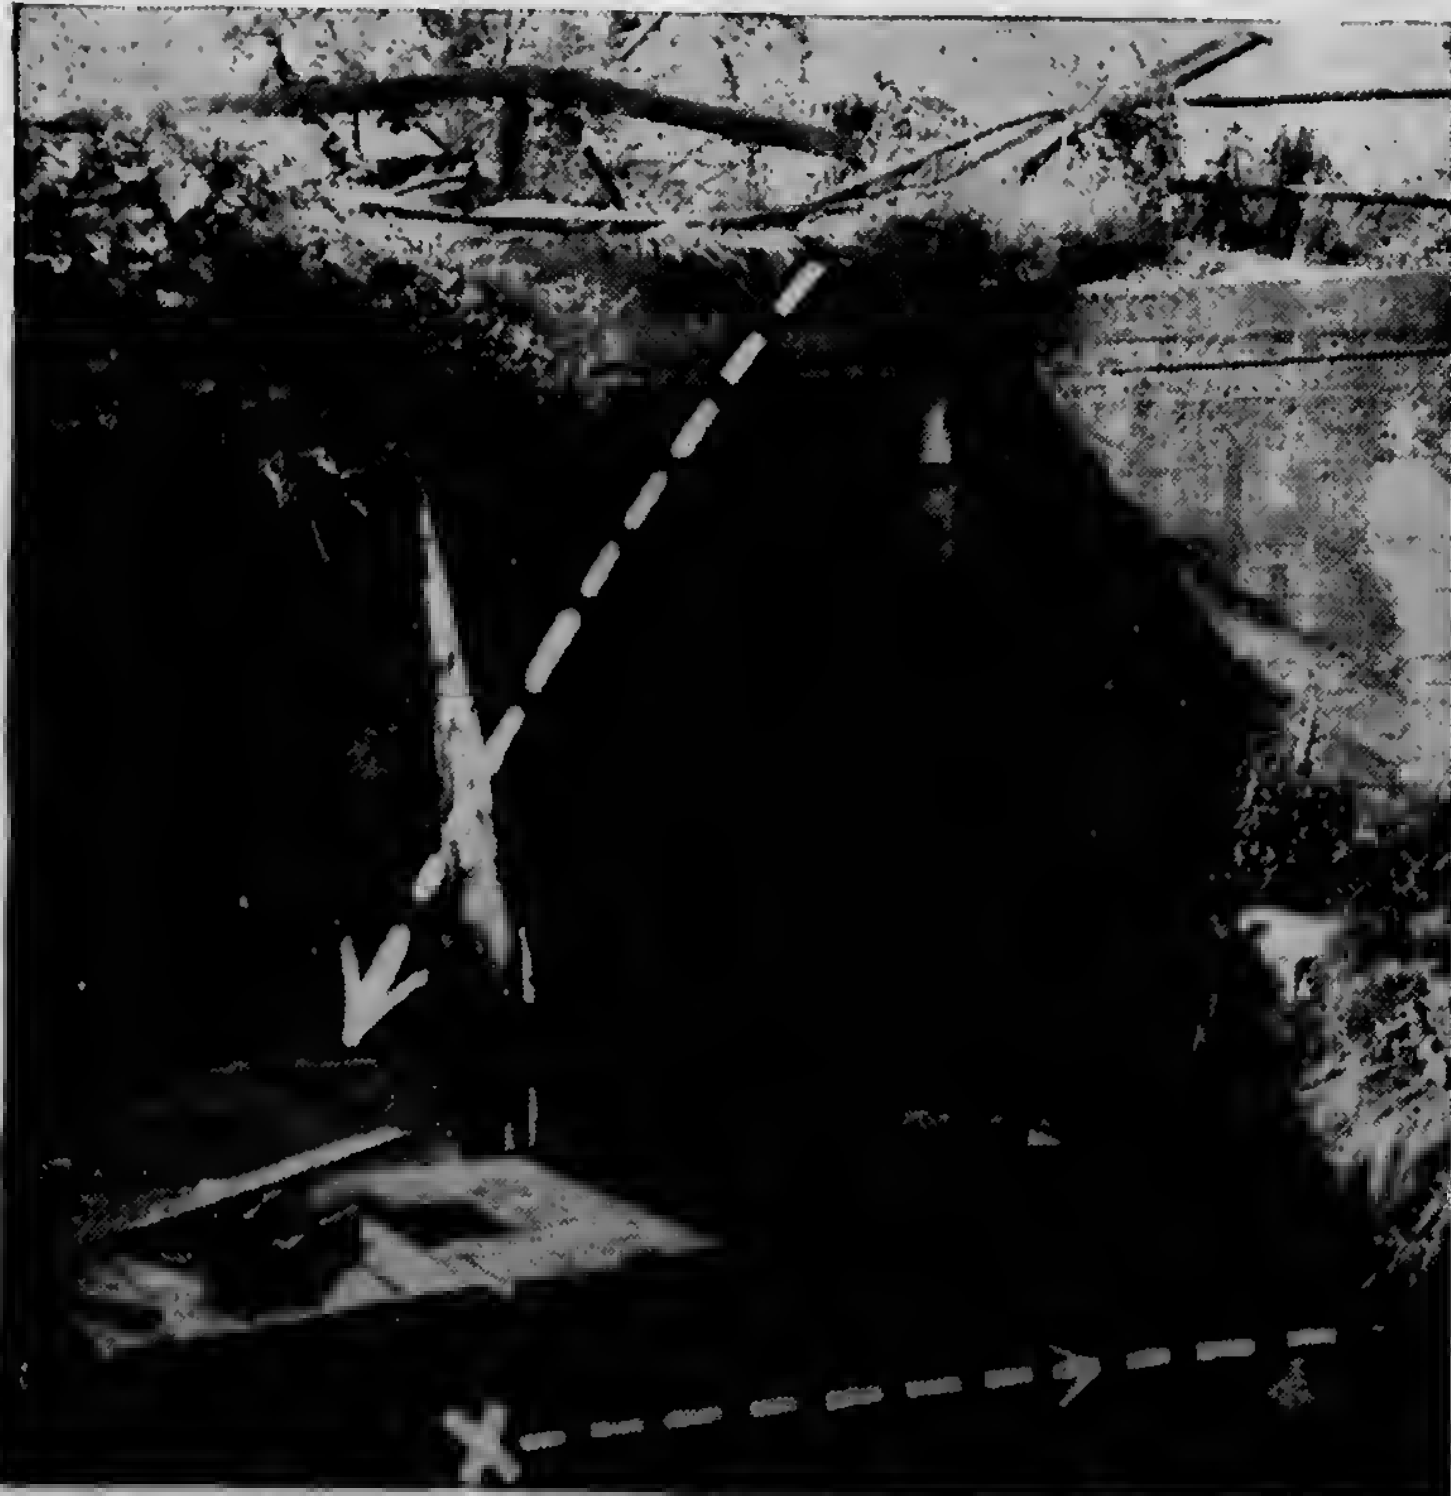

JUNIOR CLUBS—Four junior beef club clubs and one junior seed club from the Carman district combined for an organized tour of the University of Manitoba and the famed Richardson Farm, near Winnipeg. During their visit they were shown the famous Short-horn bull, Mount Banker. He is being held by Bill Jones.

TWO WOMEN, CHILD ESCAPE AS TRUCK PLUNGES INTO CREEK—Pinned in truck, Mrs. Jean Marcusse, 43, was barely able to keep her head above water until help arrived. Truck stalled on hill, went out of control, and plunged through rail of bridge. The dotted line shows where Mrs. Williams swam to shore with her daughter.

Driver of truck which plunged into Big Creek, near Delhi, Ont., Mrs. Amie Williams, was injured.

Daughter Phyllis, age four, was rescued by mother from creek.

JAP WAR CRIMINALS, ON WAY TO EXECUTION, JEER AT CROWD—Death ride for two Japanese war criminals was like carnival to thousands of Chinese who lined Shanghai streets to watch the doomed pair, Horiuchi Yonemura, 53, and Jiro Shimota, 29, ride by in truck, centre, background. Shimota laughed and jeered at the crowd all along the parade route. After the execution, the crowd trampled their bodies.

FOULKES SAYS CANADA NOT TO BE BATTLEFIELD

CALGARY.—Recent talk of Canada being a second Belgium in another world war "is all poppycock", said Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, Chief of the General Staff at Canadian Army Headquarters, Ottawa, after he arrived in Calgary recently on a tour of western army installations and military schools.

"There is no substantiation for such talk in fact," he declared. "A little simple arithmetic work proves this." He went on to explain his contention by pointing out the difficulties an invading army would experience in supplying itself in the north-land.

But the senior military officer of the Canadian Army did not rule out entirely possibility of an attack on Canada. "Just because geographical factors kept this country from being a battle ground in the past is no reason to believe they will continue to safeguard the country."

"We've got to convince our countrymen on this point. In a day when planes can fly non-stop from Tokyo to Cairo there is no telling what can happen," Gen. Foulkes added.

Mountain Climbers Suffer From Altitude

FAIRBANKS, Alaska. — Turned back 3,000 feet short of their goal—the 30,270-foot peak of Mount McKinley—by the altitude sickness of one of their party, three University of Alaska mountaineers were at the Mount McKinley National Park.

Morton Woods, 23, of Boston, suffered from the altitude at 17,000 feet and his companions, George Schumann, 22, Santa Maria, Calif., and Gordon Herreid, Santa Maria, Calif., decided to abandon their mountain climbing.

They brought him down to the 11,000-foot level where he recovered quickly.

To Feel Right — Eat Right!

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

Water in Ear

If you have acute or chronic ear trouble, be careful where and when you go in the water this summer, say the National Health wardens. Water may get into the middle ear and may allow entrance of infection, which could then spread to the inner ear and the mastoid sinuses.

It is suggested that those with ear trouble consult their family physicians as to the advisability of taking part in aquatic sports.

Dive for Safety

Unless you can dive, when you go in for a swim, you should certainly hold your nose as you take to the water first for, say the health experts, water forced up into the nostrils can carry infection to nose, throat and sinuses. Man isn't like the duck, which can close its nostrils under water. And, unlike the duck, human beings haven't that special eyelid which protects the eyes under water, so swimmers should try to see when submerged as rarely as possible.

Past Play-Time

Middle-agers should resist the temptation to indulge in violent physical exertion on their annual holidays. Health people at Ottawa warn: "Those who live sedentary lives can't suddenly become 'sports' with safety, particularly if they are past the play-time of life. The family doctor, familiar with their normal types of activity, should be consulted about the type of recreation which will benefit them, and not harm them."

Hay Fever Note

Sufferers from hay-fever and so-called "rose-colds" should avoid swimming during seasons when they are most subject to those unpleasant disabilities, according to health authorities. Those who suffer severely from hay-fever are advised to think twice before they go swimming at all. Chronic inflammations of the nose and throat make this advisable.

Twenty different kinds of elephants at one time roamed over various parts of the earth. Today, there are only two species, the African and the Asiatic.

BELGIAN URANIUM ORE SUPPLIES FOR BRITAIN AND U.S.

BRUSSELS.—Premier Paul Henri Spaak said that war-time arrangements placing uranium ore supplies from the Belgian Congo at the disposal of Britain and the United States still were in effect.

"It was necessary during the war," Spaak told the Belgian Senate, "to assure our allies of material necessary for atomic energy. Arrangements are still current. The Government hopes that an agreement for the control of atomic energy will soon intervene. The Belgian Government will then adapt its legislation on uranium to conform with international organization."

MY WEEK

by R. J. Beachman

On a sunny foothills of the Province of Alberta they have been working lately about gastronomic problems. They want to find some particular dish which will lure the tourist to that province, bring them back again and again. So they offered a prize and now if you want something that lingers in your memory for "Grilled Alberta Gold Medal Ranch Steak".

But the Edmonton Journal is not satisfied. It turns up its editorial nose, lifts the breeze and makes this unkind remark:

"Just why steak should be a typical Alberta food is not explained. It is just as much a 'national dish' in Texas, or any other ranching country. And if any dish is typically English it is roast beef."

With due respect and admiration may I add, the Edmonton Journal is wrong. There is nothing the average man wants more than to get the things to which he has become accustomed. So if a Texan lands in Alberta and gets one of those "Grilled Alberta Gold Medal Steaks" and washes it down with a cup of coffee, the kind I used to get in a Lethbridge cafe forty years ago, run by a chieftain named MacPherson, he will go back to Texas and tell the girl in a Dallas hash-house that the only steaks worth eating come from Alberta.

I remember still some rather delighted things I have eaten in different parts of Canada. There was for instance Cod Fish at Fox River in the Rapin Country, Salmon in Vancouver when you could buy a big salmon for "two bits", and one of the best pieces of fish I ever ate was blue cod in Prince Rupert. I like potatoes and cream, maple syrup on a hot cob wherever it grows and something else a steak I ate one time in Alberta—it was a good steak.

It was in Medicine Hat. It was a bit chilly, not so chilly as the "Hat" can be at times. I mean there was a time in the air. I was hungry when I went into that restaurant. It was nine p.m. and I hadn't eaten since 1 p.m. I looked at the menu and said to the girl "A steak please, the best you ever served." "Thank you", she said, "you'll get it."

An air force man came in. I saw him look around for a seat and pointed to the one across from me. He asked him where he came from. He answered in one word "Norway". How on earth did you get here? I asked. "That was easy, we stole a boat and sailed for England". "Wasn't that dangerous?" "Yes", he said. In his own words, English "a bit dangerous" but we were fairly good sailors, so despite planes and subs we landed in England, presented ourselves to our government, in exile, went to the United States, found there, now we are in Canada.

The waitress came around and at my suggestion he ordered a steak. "What next", I said. "Back to Norway, back to Norway, to make it comfortable for the Germans. I wish him god-speed. As he left he said "Thank you for giving me a seat and recommending the steak—it was a steak to remember."

So Alberta dear, I love you still. I see you standing there with the wind in your face, the sun in your eyes and away to the west the mountains. I have known you now in good and evil days for more than forty years. Keep on feeding straks to tourists but change the name, call it "A Steak to Remember."

On several occasions of late we have heard conversations of people in the district who wonder why the stores in Raymond continue to follow the noon store closing custom as practised during the war years.

At a time when help was scarce we were in favor of it. Too we are in favor of it during the winter but now that summer is here and in full swing we feel to frown upon the practice somewhat.

These are busy times for the farmer and his time is precious. A breakdown just before noon causes extra hours of delay because in all probability he will land in town just after the stores close. Thus he waits an hour and fifteen minutes to buy repairs. Whereas he could have made his purchase, returned home, snatched a bite to eat and be back at work by the time the stores open after lunch.

Business houses in Raymond have always stood for service to the community. Towns people are able to adjust themselves to closing hours but the farmer in the outlying districts are at the mercy of breakdowns at any hour of the day.

We heard a discussion the other day that some of the farmers are doing some trading in another town on this account. We like to see our money spent at home and business houses thrive on money spent at home; but trade will naturally flow to the points where service is manifest. I think the business houses in Raymond should get together and abolish the noon closing agreement, especially during the summer months in their own interest and for the benefit and service to the community.

I think Raymond is the only town

Maintaining Soil Fertility

Our prairie soils have lost much of their natural soil fertility through continuous cropping and soil erosion. The grain and straw from a twenty bushel crop of wheat contain mineral elements valued at about $10.00. The growing crop removes these elements from the soil. Unfortunately, soil erosion can cause an even greater annual fertility loss than this.

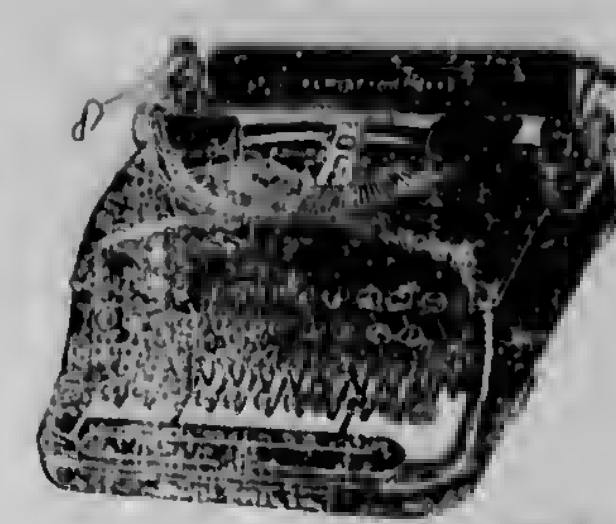

What can be done about it? Well losses of soil fertility in Western Canada can only be reduced if every farmer will follow certain definite practices which influence the fertility of his soil such as proper tillage, crop rotation, and the use of manures and commercial fertilizers.

Tillage. The use of summer fallow practices which will kill weeds and store moisture without destroying the structure of the soil particles is important. However, the excessive tillage associated with following one half of the land each year (a one-crop system) has a detrimental effect on soil structure, and eventually leads to severe soil erosion—dust storms and gullies.

Crop Rotation. The periodic use of grass-legume mixtures on different parts of the farm is an excellent way to maintain and increase soil fertility. Grass roots bind the soil particles together, and legumes store nitrogen (an essential plant food) for the use of other crops.

Manure. Well-rotted manure applied at the rate of 10 tons per acre has a fertilizer value of over $20.00 per acre. Few prairie farmers are making the best use of their farmyard manure.

Commercial Fertilizers. Phosphate fertilizers (11-48 Ammonium Phosphate) give the best results in the black soil regions, particularly when applied with crops on summer fallow. For soils low in organic matter (eroded soils), however, and where all straw and stubble are worked into the land, applications of 16-20 Ammonium Phosphate are required. If our prairie soils are to continue to produce food for human want, skillful soil management will be needed, more and more, in the future. For information on soil fertility problems see your local Agricultural Representative, or write to the Soils Department of the University.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

KEYS

By T. CARTER DODD

STUBBORNLY Barney Thorpe refused to leave the office or his work until the last estimate was checked and filed away. Refused in the face of the ominous warnings that blared forth from the radio at his elbow.

"Go home at once. The storm is rising to hurricane proportions. Go home at once. Quickly."

The rain battered viciously against the window. Looking at the radio I said with all the urgency I could summon.

"Don't you hear that warning, Barney? Don't be a fool."

We were alone in the office. He had sent the girls home an hour ago. Though not yet five o'clock of an autumn afternoon it was dark outside. And that driving rain and ugly wind. It was not pleasant to hear it nor think how nasty the nearby Long Island Sound waters must be.

"Oh that radio," there was cool disdain in Barney's voice, "they're too nervous. Besides I'll only take a few minutes more here. Go on down like a good fellow and wait in the car for me. You know, the one behind Harry's jalopy."

Abruptly I jerked my head away from the window and the storm to look at him. His face was clouded, his eyes cold.

"Yes, I know the car," I replied, and could not for the life of me refrain from adding, "I should, after all these 15 years. What fools two brothers can make of themselves."

Then I went out quickly. Much as I liked Barney Thorpe I never did relish bearing the brunt of his wrath. It could be terrible where his brother, Harry, was concerned, terrible in more ways than one.

Downstairs, on the street level, peering through the heavy glass door the storm appeared worse, if that was possible. There were no intermittent gusts. There were no moments, none at all, when one might make a dash for the car. On the contrary it was a ceaseless savage brutal assault on the face of the building. The wind and rain hattered with unrelenting fury.

Deep down in my heart it frightened me. The waters of Long Island Sound, a quarter of a mile distant, must be pretty ugly by now.

Across the street a light, blurred and faint, showed where Harry Thorpe's elgar store stood. Harry had not gone home. Was he going to ride out the storm in his place? Or was he too just delaying? It would serve both brothers right if they delayed too long. If they both got caught. But then, and I shook my head, I would be in the same boat. My irritation mounted.

Stubborn old fools. All the Thorpes. Just 15 years ago Harry had proposed opening the store. He was going to put all his savings into it because he was sure it would be a grand success.

Equally positive it would be a terrible blunder Barney told him profanely not to. Warned him he was courting disaster.

Harry was stubborn, opened the store and now still had his original jalopy. Barney was stubborn, swore that his brother was a fool and bought himself a new car every year, when there were cars. Not because he needed one but because he wanted it for a purpose.

And that purpose? Every day he parked that car right behind Harry's jalopy just to prove how right he, Barney, was. And how terribly wrong by contrast Harry was. Every year the jalopy got older but every year Harry appeared to grow more content. And Barney more like a aule.

Every day for 15 years. And not once in all those 15 years, not for one single fleeting second—

A heavy hand on my arm. Not having heard a sound I jumped. It was Barney. "It looks kind of nasty," he said soberly.

Who waited for it to get nasty. I felt like retorting? We made a dash for the car and were soaked before we had gone ten feet. In the car Barney fumbled for the keys and I peered out into the storm. Harry was at the window of his shop. He looked lonely.

"Damn!" said Barney, "I can't find my keys." He searched every pocket and then started in all over again. The devil was in me. "Harry looks nice and dry," I remarked sourly.

"Double damn!" said Barney, still hating. "Hope the motor starts," I added. "What in thunder," he growled, "have I done with my keys." "Maybe Harry'll give us a tow," I said wickedly.

"Maybe I'll hust his face," he shouted. "I must have left those

At that instant I saw Harry sloshing toward us. Barney gave no sign that he saw him. But he did crawl over me to get out. He went out one door even as the door on the opposite side was opened. Whether by design or no they just missed each other. I looked at Harry and my irritation boiled over.

"You're both fools," I said angrily, "why don't you break down and talk to each other. I'd like to break your necks."

To Harry's credit it must be said that he looked kind of foolish. He dropped some keys on the car seat. He was soaked.

"Mine," he said, "I thought he was stuck. Tell him he can have my car. I'm staying."

Then he was gone and for the moment I didn't know whether to curse him or praise him. Two stubborn old fools. They had not spoken to each other for 15 years and each was obviously determined not to be the one to break that record.

Because, as Barney said, "he called me an old fool," and because, as Harry said, "he can't tell me what to do."

Barney reappeared. He looked as if he had fallen into the Sound with his clothes on. He saw the keys. "Whose are they?" he demanded suspiciously. "Harry's," I told him, "he said to use his car."

With a face as black as the storm Barney sloshed off into the wind and rain. He went straight for Harry's store. I could see him as he opened the door. Then he closed it and came back.

"I flung 'em in his face," he growled, "he'd better mind his own business."

By now I was speechless from fury. It was so utterly assinine. I started to get out of the car heedless of everything except my wrath. So I missed, at first what Barney said. Abruptly he shouted, and his voice was full of horror, even as he flung himself out of the car.

"Quick! Run for your life. Oh my God! A mountain of water."

Then I saw it. A great wall of water rolling along the street. Straight toward us. It looked as black as ink and as terrible as night.

At such a moment one does not know what one does. One acts from instinct. And what one does is beyond all reasoning. The next thing I knew I was leaping madly up the fire escape with the water swirling about my legs.

Safe on an upper landing on the side of the building I stopped. A river of water churned about below me. Across the street the light in the cigar store still shone. The driving rain blurred my vision. But not entirely. I could see into the store and what I saw was forever after seared into my mind. A living, lightning-flash picture.

Inside that cigar store were two men, shoulder to shoulder, struggling desperately to keep the door closed. Barney and Harry Thorpe. Brothers. Then the lights went out.

No Reduced Postage Expected

OTTAWA. — Postmaster General Bertrand held out no hope to the Commons that there would be any return to the three-cent stamp or to any other pre-war stamp prices.

He met E. B. McKay (CCF—Weyburn) with a chuckle and a prepared answer when he was asked if, in view of continuing departmental surpluses, there would be any reduction.

The four-cent stamp, he said, actually carried a two-cent tax and if there was to be any cut it would be a budget matter. It was not considered wise to cut back prices because costs were above wartime levels.

The United States had done that and had lost $492,000,000. Canada's stamp sales totalled $55,000,000 last year. A one-cent cut would chop off $11,000,000.

PRINCESS HAS CAR

Princess Elizabeth has acquired her first automobile, which she will drive herself. Like all other cars owned by the Royal Family, it is a Daimler, although lighter than those used by the King and Queen, and bears the license number "HRH 1".

Great Lakes ore carriers with 10,000-ton capacities can be loaded in 90 minutes, but it takes four hours to unload them.

SELECTED RECIPES

PASTEL JELLY FROSTING

A dress-up, no-sugar frosting at little cost

1/2 cup jelly

1 egg white, unbeaten

Dash of salt

Combine jelly, egg white, and salt in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary beater, and cook 3 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from boiling water and let stand until cool enough to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers or 9-inch tube cake.

BROILED TOPPING

Jiffy fruit topping for cakes and cupcakes

1/2 cup Swans Down cake flour

1/4 cup sugar

Dash of salt

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Jam (any flavor)

Mix together flour, sugar, and salt. Add butter and cut in with two knives or pastry blender until mixture looks like coarse crumbs. Spread jam over top of hot cake and sprinkle with flour mixture. Place under moderately hot broiler 3 to 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Makes enough topping for 10x10x2-inch cake or 8 to 10 medium-sized cupcakes.

Saskatchewan Horse Population Decreases

OTTAWA. — The old gray mare ain't playing the role she used to in Saskatchewan.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which solemnly issues daily reports on items ranging from last month's shoe production to Canada's position in international trade, disclosed that there were only 570,439 horses in the province in 1946 against 800,693 in 1941.

In 1936, there were 898,323, and the 10-year decrease amounted to 36.5 per cent.

GOOD ROADS NEEDED TO MAINTAIN TOURIST TRADE

OTTAWA.—A gigantic road-building program is needed to maintain Canada's tourist trade, expected to be the biggest in history this year, the Senate Tourist Committee was told.

"This year Canada should have the three biggest tourist months in the history of this country—July, August, and September," said Leo Dolan, head of the Canadian Travel Bureau, adding that "there's got to be a tremendous road-building program from Nova Scotia to British Columbia—if we want to keep the tourist trade."

Canadian highways had been the target for most of the criticism made by tourists. In addition there had been some complaints about meals, and the roadside cabins which "weren't as good as they ought to be."

Earns Money By Staying In Bed

BERLIN. — Bread is worth more than wages to Germans today according to a Berlin citizen summoned before a court to explain his refusal of a job offered by the Labor exchange.

He asked the magistrate.

"Why should I work if I can earn more than double a week's pay by staying in bed?"

"I am not lazy nor ill, but also I am not a fool. I stay in bed until noon, which means I go without breakfast. In a week this means I save a loaf."

"Every Saturday I sell the loaf I have saved and get for it twice as much as the wages for the job the exchange offered to me. Why should I work if I earn that much and avoid paying taxes by staying in bed?"

Britain To Stand By The U.N.

LONDON. — Great Britain, taking the lead with France in setting up a new organization to plan the reconstruction of Europe, will stand by the United Nations with "unswerving loyalty", Minister of State Hector McNeill said.

McNeill made the statement when asked by C. L. Lipson, Independent, in the House of Commons whether the newly-proposed all-Europe body would keep in close touch with the United Nations European economic organization.

However, he did not answer Lipson's question directly.

The Minister of State was questioned briefly after he read the British-French communique proposing the formation of a new organization to assess Europe's resources and needs.

McNeill told Willie Gallagher, Communist, that Foreign Secretary Bevin and Foreign Minister Bidault of France went "to considerable lengths" to meet the claims of Soviet Russia "in the Paris talks which ended without agreement between Russia and the two western powers."

A government spokesman said Britain would go ahead with plans to expand her trade in Eastern Europe.

He did not attempt to conceal the fact that Russia's decision to eschew the Marshall proposal for European reconstruction had been a foregone conclusion to the government.

Nutritional Diseases Being Stamped Out

LONDON. — Nutritional diseases will be stamped out in Britain within 10 to 20 years, Dr. Edith Summerskill, parliamentary secretary to Britain's Ministry of Food, declared.

For the first time in the history classes had the same milk ration. This equal sharing of food would cause rickets and other nutritional diseases to become as rare as smallpox cases in about 10 years time, Dr. Summerskill said.

Add 1 envelope Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast and 1 teaspoon sugar to 1/2 cup lukewarm water, stir and let stand 10 minutes. Scald 1/2 cup milk, add 3 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt; cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup sifted flour to make a batter. Add yeast mixture and 1 beaten egg. Beat well. Add 2 1/2 cups sifted flour, or enough to make a soft dough. Knead lightly; place in greased bowl. Cover; set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. Roll out dough to 1/2" thickness and place in greased shallow pan. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 1/2 hours. Prick top with fork and brush with 3 tablespoons melted shortening. Cream 3 tablespoons butter or shortening, add 3 tablespoons sugar gradually, mixing well. Add 1/4 cup sifted flour, 1/2 cup dry cake or bread crumbs, and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; stir until well mixed and crumbly. Sprinkle on top of cake. Let rise again in warm place about 1/2 hour. Bake in moderate oven at 400° F. about 20 minutes.

HISTORY OF RAYMOND (con't.)
Aaronic Priesthood quorums I order to qualify to go to the Centennial.

This is a year of great significance to the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints which number more than 1,000,000 souls. One hundred years ago to-day the population of Salt Lake City was 148 men, women and children. Today Salt Lake City is the capital of the State of Utah, which has a population 500,000. July 24th has been significant to the Latter Day Saints all down thru the years. The early pioneers of Raymond as far back as 1904 observed this special day, and today (Wednesday July 23) the 3 Stakes are celebrating the Centennial with all its trimmings.
